“We’re a global multi-brand business so we need to work collaboratively and efficiently. Bynder’s tagging functionality has been hugely beneficial as it’s allowed people to easily locate files using the search function. Our team can search one of our USPs or themes, such as local leaders or responsible travel, to find the right file in seconds.”

Dom Morgan, Brand Manager at Intrepid Group.

Challenges faced by Intrepid Group

To keep up with the constantly changing digital landscape, Intrepid Group had to adopt an agile approach to their marketing and work smarter on a daily basis. With multiple global brands to manage, Intrepid Group needed a system to keep all brand communications consistent and secure. They also had to move all their assets from their physical server to a system that is scalable with their growth.

“The key to the success of the global adoption of Bynder was clear demonstrations with heavier users, including plenty of time for questions. For light users, the Bynder Wizard and supporting video content has been really helpful in taking users through new functions, requiring little face-to-face training.”

Managing multiple brands with one system

Managing multiple brands has also become far easier as Bynder has consolidated a number of systems, servers and processes into one platform. Clear filtering and usage information ensures that all assets are used correctly.
